Dear Parents,
Greetings!!

I hope this letter finds you and your family in good health and spirits. As the Parent, you have been working with perseverance to shape the destiny of your child, however, I wanted to take a moment to share thoughts on the importance of academics and life skills.

While our teachers work hard to provide quality education during school hours, we believe learning should not be confined to the classroom. As parents, you play a crucial role in your child's education, and we encourage you to take an active interest in your child's academic progress. You may check the workbooks, notebooks and worksheets. Meet the Principal to discuss the academic progress according to the schedule given.

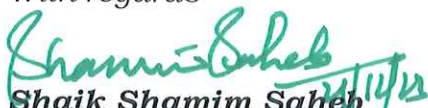

We advise you to teach the importance of academics to your child and monitor their progress regularly. Encourage them to complete their homework on time and help with their studies if needed. By instilling a love for learning in your child, you can help them develop a lifelong passion for knowledge and self-improvement. Teach them time management, personal hygiene, and emotional behavior. We urge you to respect and follow the school policies and circulars issued for the smooth functioning of the school and make sure that your child refrains from using mobile phones and electrical gadgets during the study schedule.

In addition to academics, we also believe in the importance of life skills. These skills, such as communication, problem-solving, and teamwork, are essential for success not only in academics but also in life. As parents, you can help your child develop these skills by encouraging them to participate in extracurricular activities and teaching them the importance of exchanging pleasantries. I would also like to inform you that the school initiates strict disciplinary action against the students who are involved in bullying, abusive behavior, and physical assault. So as a parent, you must ensure that your ward is not involved in bullying, abusive behavior, and physical assault.

We understand that parenting can be challenging, and we are here to support you in any way we can. Please do not hesitate to reach out to us if you have any questions or concerns. Together, we can help our students achieve their full potential and become responsible and successful members of society.

Thank you for your attention, and we look forward to your continued support and cooperation.

With regards

Shaik Shamim Saheb
Principal
